Ambassador
of the Republic of Poland
to the Republic of Croatia

Zagreb, 02/10/2020

Dear Madam/Sir,

The current year has brought the world challenges that no one expected. The coronavirus pandemic has changed not only our everyday lives, but has also forced us to look for new ways to run and develop business and establish contacts with foreign partners. Meetings and talks between potential business partners from different countries using modern communication solutions are an excellent way to continue business, regardless of the difficulties that entrepreneurs and all of us have faced recently.

I am convinced that the meetings of entrepreneurs from the Visegrad Group (V4) countries, including Poland, and Croatia within the "Go Global – Go Virtual" initiative will contribute to the development and intensification of cooperation and economic contacts between our countries.

I wish you all not only successful talks, but also fruitful cooperation in the future, for the benefit of the economies of our countries.

Please accept the assurance of my highest consideration,
